Responses to Questions:

Question 1: Will the project description include specific Code language?

Response 1: It is expected that the project description will include a narrative description of proposed changes to the existing ordinances, but specific Code language will not be developed for all alternatives.

Question 2: What additional studies are expected?

Response 2: No specific studies have been identified at this time. It is possible that focused studies could be required on a variety of topics areas. Prospective firms are encouraged to include a “Contingency” or “Directed Analysis” task with rates for key personnel, who could be available to assist with additional targeted studies.

Question 3: Do the resumes for key personnel and firm background count toward the 20 page limit?

Response 3: Yes, all of the proposal submission requirements listed on pages 4 – 5 of the RFP should be included within the 20 page limit, including company background and experience. However, firms may choose to provide additional or more detailed firm background, Statement of Qualifications, or resumes for key personnel as an attachment to the proposal.

Question 4: If shipping a proposal by FedEx or UPS, where should the proposal be sent?

Response 4: 128 Market St., Stateline, NV 89449.

Question 5: Does the table of contents count towards the 20 page limit?

Response 5: Yes.